Think it. Do it.

Each room is as unique as the people who occupy it. Building owners and occupants recognise that functional room planning in a healthy environment is as much a priority as decorative aspects. Combining these criteria as efficiently as possible requires a carefully devised overall concept.

StoSignature stands for exceptionally attractive surfaces and colours that come together to create multifaceted designs and perfectly match the room's purpose. Using the motto "Think it. Do it.", it provides tradesmen and planners with the opportunity to use their skills to put their own ideas into practice, leaving a distinctive impression.

The StoSignature Interior Collection #01 offers a variety of combination options and the right concept to suit any requirement.

Let yourself be inspired by our surfaces and on-trend colours. Experience this extraordinary collection.

Designing surfaces

Attractive walls and ceilings

The StoSignature Interior Collection #01 is a source of inspiration for architects, interior designers, tradesmen, and building owners, helping them make their own ideas a reality and make their unique mark on walls and ceilings. It represents the natural progression of earlier collections such as "Created by a master".

For many years now, we here at Sto have been developing surface collections that consistently draw inspiration from the latest international trends. This work has resulted in a sophisticated range of colour and material concepts.

Surfaces play a key role in setting the atmosphere of a room. Aspects such as colour, texture, material, and feel all contribute to this.

You can flexibly combine our high-quality products to offer your customers tailor-made solutions and results that are one of a kind. From substrate preparation to the finished surface, we provide a whole system that delivers top quality throughout!

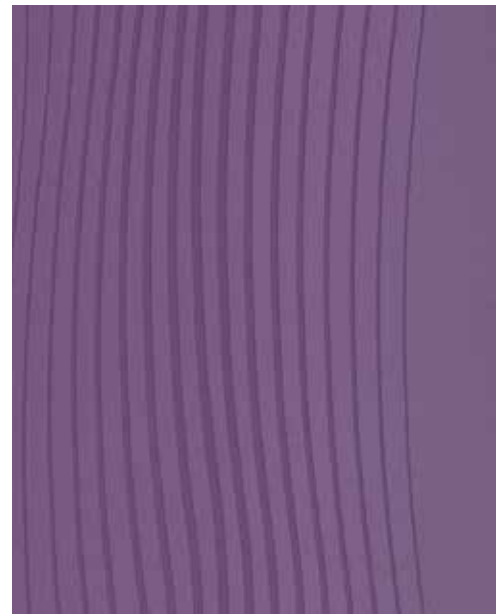

The new StoSignature Interior Collection #01 is a one-stop solution for all the components you need. It adds a touch of character to every room.

Atelier

We want to feel at home in our four walls. They are where we work and live; where we spend a large part of our lives. An attractively designed room is a room where we want to spend time.

Ceilings and walls are the key elements in a room concept and should meet a range of criteria. Decorative aspects have to be considered, but so too do ecological ones. Beauty and function should go hand in hand. The StoSignature Collection #01 offers a wide range of possibilities.

In this brochure, we have collated a vast array of ideas and options that you can use for designing surfaces and rooms. Let yourself be inspired – and create interiors that are truly special.

Nature at its most beautiful: Penthouse combines tried-and-tested raw materials with impressive functional properties. The surfaces are based on lime, a natural material, and their water-vapour transmission rate allows them to help regulate an ideal ambient interior climate. Combined with specialist application techniques, the materials lend the surfaces a certain natural beauty.

Penthouse

Penthouse implies an exclusive residence above a city's rooftops, located right in the centre of things and yet far from the hustle and bustle of the street. The deep red of Chimney and the unconventional surface created by Rope make this room a calm and natural scene. This impression is emphasised by the muted shades of the America colour palette.

Focusing on features that create that special something, Lobby has an unconventional character that leaves a powerful impression. The Caiman surface imitates reptile skin so effectively that onlookers will immediately want to reach out and touch it. The Earth texture recalls a dry riverbed, drawing people's attention. Denim, meanwhile, resembles jeans-like material that impressively casts the spotlight on the surfaces.

Walls with the wow factor. If pomp and circumstance are what you are looking for, then the Salon trend concept is the perfect solution. The imposing patterns emphasise the height and width of interior walls, and add a noble touch to any room. Although very different, the Ribbons, Strings, and Flowers textures all have one thing in common: they become the highlight of the room and transform any wall into a genuine work of art.

In some cases, planners and tradesmen need a surface that can do more than just look good. The multifunctional textures in the Lounge trend concept don't just create an effective highlight on walls and ceilings. Their sound-permeable surfaces also ensure excellent acoustics and are suitable for almost any kind of room – including nurseries, music rooms, restaurants, and bars.

Ornament

As this surface illustrates, the design options for our acoustic ceiling elements know virtually no limits.

International trends

StoSignature Interior Collection #01

Our international StoDesign studios regularly work in close collaboration with architects and interior designers from all over the world to find the very latest texture and colour trends that go into our collections. This newest collection contains harmonious combinations of remarkable surfaces and forty on-trend shades that capture the atmospheres of various regions around the globe.

In developing the StoSignature Interior Collection #01, our StoDesigners took inspiration from natural and technical structures as well as textile surfaces and colourful scenes. The collection is made to stimulate creative design and captivating results in rooms.

The trend colours defined by StoDesign are combined with one another to create harmonious palettes. Carefully selected colour shades set highlights and lend the room a coherent atmosphere all of its own.

At Sto, we do more than just provide top-of-the-range products to help you put the right wall and ceiling design elements in place. We also offer our specialist knowledge and our experience to answer any questions you may have. In special training sessions and workshops, our experts can equip you with the know-how you need to create surfaces that reflect the personal touch of the tradesman, planner, or interior designer.

Interior Collection #01

Trend colours

Set the right tone with this range of trend colours. Harmonious palettes inspired by eight countries and surges of colour from a range of regions will create new sources of inspiration and help you in your colour design.

Germany

The Germany palette is all about crisp colours. Combine them with creamy white to switch on their full luminosity. This colour combination is complemented perfectly by a muted aubergine shade that can create earthy tones or be used as an accent colour to set warm highlights.

Switzerland

Exuding subtle elegance and a down-to-earth impression, the Switzerland colour palette combines earthy brown shades with a green colour accent. It is a contrast that is thoroughly modern and can create a dramatically eye-catching look, depending on how the colours are applied.

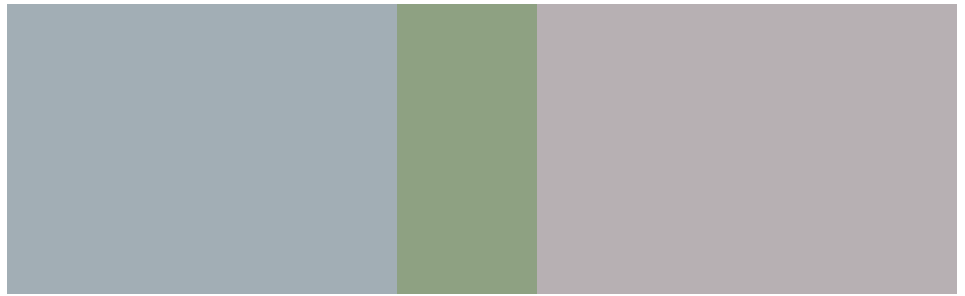

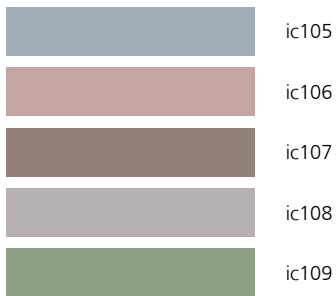

The colour charts used here illustrate how it is possible to create very different looks within the same palette by adjusting which colours are emphasised. Get inspired and create your very own harmonious combinations using main colours and accent colours.

Austria

A colour inspired by Wiener Melange coffee complements shades of green pastures. A pastel pink adds a dash of colour. The Austria palette brings together tradition and sophistication, creating a stylish overall appearance in any combination.

Scandinavia

The muted colours in this palette reflect Scandinavia's close links with nature. Light shades can be combined beautifully with these subtle nuances of colour. This creates a subdued effect that is not too cold.

Interior Collection #01

Trend colours

Italy

La dolce vita in colour: the bold colours of this palette are inspired by the Italian zest for life. However you apply and combine the main and accent colours, the result will remain self-assured, spontaneous, and elegant.

China

The origins of the China colour palette can be traced back to the Silk Road and the courtyards of Beijing. Sandy beige shades are combined with exquisite anthracite and a vivid pale blue.

France

The France palette is a take on the Tricolore, using a deep aubergine red as well as sky blue and white. With various yellow shades complementing it, this palette creates room atmospheres that are opulent or relaxed and subtle, depending on how the colours are applied.

America

The colour trends inspired by America reflect the continent's vast landscapes: the canyons, the forests and mountains of the East Coast, and the expansive plains of the Midwest. Bright pastel colour shades provide a showcase for the deep red.
